Propose 5% Increase

House Passes SS Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted Thursday for a 5 per cent increase in Social Security payments, along with a surprise bonus of future cost-of-living increases.

A Republican-sponsored move to add the cost-of-living feature, starting in 1973, swept through the House at the last minute, 233 to 144. Then the bill passed 343 to 32.

The bill which now goes to the Senate, calls for increasing next year the wage base on which Social Security taxes are levied from $7,800 to $9,000—meaning added taxes for all earning more than $7,800. The extra cost-of-living feature would entail more increases in the future.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, told the House the wage base might be $22,000 by 1990 if the provision remains in the law.

The first changes, the 5 per cent increase and the $9,000 base, will go into effect Jan. 1, if the Senate concurs with the House action.

These and other liberalizations in the measure would pump out more than $2 billion additional benefits of various kinds, while the initial tax increase would raise $2.5 billion.

Under terms of the bill, the average single retired person next year would receive $121.80 a month instead of $116; the average couple $205.80 instead of $196.

The first cost-of-living adjustment would come in 1973 if prices continue to rise.

The maximum Social Security tax paid by an employed person would rise from $374.40 to $468 next year. The increase reflects both the raise and a four-tenths of one per cent tax rate increase already built in the law.

The measure also includes provisions intended to check the soaring cost of medicare, medicaid and other government-assisted health programs.

One of these would be the first statutory standards for doctors' payments. These would be based on the rates prevailing among three-fourths of the doctors of the community, eliminating the highest-charging quarter.

The secretary of health, education and welfare would be directed to work out ways of shifting hospital payments to a basis of charges determined in advance.

Moreover, the bill would provide shifts in the federal contribution to medicaid programs for the poor and near-poor so as to discourage long stays in expensive nursing homes and encourage use of outpatient and home care facilities.

The present limit on earnings a retired person may have without reduction in his pension is $1,680. The bill would raise this to $2,000.

A quirk in the present law, under which men who retire at 62 instead of 65 receive less than women in the same circumstances, would be eliminated.

Accuse President Of Muffling Facts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore said Thursday President Nixon told leaders of veterans and retired officer groups of U.S. plans to attack Communist sanctuaries in Cambodia two days before he disclosed the assault to Congress and the nation. He called it shocking.

The Tennessee Democrat said the same information "was being withheld from the Senate by no less a personage" than Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

At the White House, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon had met with people from several patriotic groups and mentioned the situation in Cambodia, but that he did not say he was sending troops there.

The President was discussing the existing situation in Vietnam, Ziegler said, and it would be easy to make assumptions subsequently that he was referring to the Cambodian drive announced two days later.

Gore's attack on the Senate floor was based on a letter dated May 13 by retired Vice Adm. W. R. Smedberg III, president of the retired Officers Association, and a press briefing last week by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

At that session, according to a transcript Gore placed in the Congressional Record, Laird said U.S. planning or the Cambodian attack began after the overthrow in March of Chief of State Norodom Sihanouk, more than one month before the attack actually took place.

Referring to the Smedberg letter, Gore told the Senate:

"This letter, if correct, indicates that the decision was being discussed with sundry pri-ivate citizens while the information with respect to it was being withheld from the Senate by no less a personage than the secretary of state himself."

"This is a shocking situation," Gore said.

There were these other developments in the congressional fight on possible curbs for U.S. actions in Cambodia:

"Efforts to find an accommodation to prevent a Senate-White House confrontation and permit an early vote marked time pending word from the White House on new efforts to rewrite the pending Cooper-Church amendment.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said a report by two staff in Vietnam," it went on.

members of his Foreign Relations Committee challenged Nixon's assertion that U.S. forces in Vietnam were threatened by a massive Communist buildup last April in the Cambodian sanctuaries.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the United States is in danger of becoming involved "in Laos, Cambodia and God knows where else" because of territorial ambitions by the current Saigon government.

—Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said "If the South Vietnamese Army is strong enough to fight in Vietnam and Cambodia at the same time, we should now be able to increase substantially the pace of U.S. troops withdrawals from Vietnam."

Smedberg's letter was an appeal to fellow members of the Retired Officers Association to support what he termed the "difficult and courageous decision" by Nixon to attack the Cambodian sanctuaries.

"President Nixon told me and a few other officers of veterans and patriotic organizations, two days before his talk to the nation, that the action he was soon to take was imperative if we were to escape the probability of total and humiliating defeat in Vietnam," it went on.

Little Resolved At German Talks

KASSEL, Germany (AP) — West German Chancellor Willy Brandt and East German Premier Willi Stoph failed to settle basic differences between their two regimes in summit talks that ended here Thursday night.

A West German spokesman said the two leaders—meeting for the second time in an unprecedented East-West dialogue—set no date for a third round.

West German government spokesman Conrad Ahlers told a news conference the door was still left open, however, for further talks at the same level later.

He said it would take "considerable time" before this could be expected.

But he stressed that technical talks which have been underway between East and West German officials would continue.

These talks deal with matters such as postal, traffic and trade exchanges between the two German states.

Despite the presence of several hundred police around the memorial, about 6,000 scuffling demonstrators barred access to the area. Authorities finally ruled that Stoph's safety could not be guaranteed.

The crowds included West German Communists waving red flags and calling for approval of Stoph's demands for diplomatic recognition. There were also rightist elements who scuffled with the leftists.

Earlier, when Stoph stepped from his special train at the Kassel rail station, the streets were jammed with rival demonstrators chanting pro and anti-Communist slogans and presenting a moving sea of banners and red flags.

for the East German delegation, which included Foreign Minister Otto Winzer.

An atmosphere of tension and inflexibility had dimmed hopes of progress as the talks got under way at this town 50 miles inside West Germany.

Brandt submitted a 20-point proposal calling for the establishment of relations that stopped just short of full diplomatic recognition of the East German regime.

Stoph's temper began to rise after a series of incidents climaxed when thousands of demonstrators from both left and right forced him to cancel plans to lay a wreath at Kassel's memorial to victims of fascism.

The East German premier issued an angry statement accusing Brandt of breaking his pledge to guarantee full security and exchanges between the two German states.

Despite the presence of several hundred police around the memorial, about 6,000 scuffling demonstrators barred access to the area. Authorities finally ruled that Stoph's safety could not be guaranteed.

The new education fund will aid districts in the South now breaking up former dual systems; any district that wants voluntarily to substitute integration for school segregation resulting from housing patterns; and districts desiring to upgrade heavily segregated schools with compensatory programs.

White House officials said the bulk of funds will go for integration and a "very low amount"

Pass 21-Mile Limit

N. Viets Move Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — The allied thrust into Cambodia has forced the North Vietnamese to move their elusive headquarters beyond the 21-mile striking distance permitted U.S. ground troops, a Pentagon spokesman said Thursday.

The Pentagon, in pinpointing the new location for the first time since U.S. and South Vietnamese forces crossed into Cambodia April 30, said high-level military and political elements of the enemy's command structure had moved to positions "north of Mimot" by May 16.

Just how far north of Mimot was not disclosed. However, in briefing newsmen, the Pentagon spokesman said it was beyond the 21-mile limit established by President Nixon for U.S. ground operations in Cambodia but within range of American jet and bomber strikes. Limits for these strikes have not been disclosed.

The village of Mimot is six miles from the South Vietnamese border in an area known as the Fishhook, long a sanctuary for enemy forces.

It was this area—10 miles west northwest of Mimot, according to Jerry Freidheim, deputy assistant secretary of defense—that served as a permanent base for the main North Vietnamese headquarters known as COSVN, Central Office for South Vietnam.

COSVN itself, they said, was made up of several military, intelligence and political elements dispersed in a number of small base camps capable of changing location on short notice. A "fact sheet" given newsmen by the Pentagon said that since the allied sweep into the sanctuaries began, COSVN's ability to command and control its forces has been seriously disrupted.

"During one brief period, the major political element of COSVN was completely unable to maintain command and control of its elements," the document said.

However, Freidheim said COSVN has since relocated and is now back on its feet.

"We still don't regard the personnel of COSVN as the major reason" for the operation, Freidheim said.

By forcing the enemy headquarters deeper into Cambodia, the allies believe they will have made it harder for the enemy to receive supplies from North Vietnam.

Combat Toll Up For U.S.

Seek Desegregation Through More Aid

SAIGON (AP) — American combat deaths last week totaled 217, the highest in nine months, the U.S. Command said Thursday. Inform sources said 77 of the Americans were killed in Cambodia.

While American battle deaths were increasing 29 per cent over the previous week, the number of South Vietnamese and enemy troops killed in action fell off.

The South Vietnamese headquarters reported 553 government troops killed, compared with 863 the week before. The two headquarters said enemy battle deaths were 3,737, down from 5,993 the previous week.

There was no explanation of why U.S. casualties rose while those of the South and North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong fell.

The South Vietnamese command said, however, that enemy activity inside the country declined by 40 per cent last week.

The U.S. death toll was the highest since the week of Aug. 10-16, when 244 Americans were killed in action.

The U.S. Command reported 166 Americans have been killed and 677 wounded in Cambodia since the first operation opened April 29. South Vietnamese headquarters said 591 government troops were killed and 2,042 were wounded in Cambodia. The allies claimed 8,433 enemy troops were killed in Cambodian battles.

Thousands of South Vietnamese troops who began a new operation in South Vietnam, but the enemy held 54 U.S. and South Vietnamese positions overnight. Reports said 13 Americans and 12 Vietnamese were wounded but damage was slight.

This was the third day in a row that the enemy had hit more than 50 bases and towns with mortars and rockets. This high point of enemy activity was believed timed to coincide with the anniversary of the birth of the late Ho Chi Minh, president of North Vietnam.

The latest casualty summary showed 1,281 Americans and 1,470 South Vietnamese were wounded last week.

The official casualty totals for the war now stand at 42,118 Americans killed in action and 278,006 wounded. Noncombat deaths total 7,949, bringing the number of American dead in Vietnam to 50,067.

South Vietnam has lost 106,845 killed in action in the war and allied headquarters put the number of enemy troops slain at 639,883.

President Nixon has ordered American flags to fly at half-staff all of Memorial Day as a special tribute to the men who died in Vietnam.

Normally, the flag is at half-staff until noon on Memorial Day, then it is flown for the remainder of the day at full staff.

But, Nixon said in his proclamation, "the tragic struggle in Vietnam" requires a marked tribute. "It is not enough to express our gratitude to the heroic dead by thought and prayer and special reverence on Memorial Day."

The proclamation expressed the hope for a more fitting tribute of "a peaceful world, free of the destructive conflicts that have plagued man's history."

Foresee Battle For House Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats lined up Thursday for a lively fight over their No. 2 party post next year after Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma quickly nailed down the top spot.

The fast-moving developments were sparked Wednesday by the announcement of Speaker John W. McCormack that he will retire from the House at the end of this term.

Albert, McCormack's chief lieutenant as Democratic floor leader, quickly made known his candidacy to succeed the veteran Boston legislator as House speaker. No other contestants appeared and none is expected.

Other leading Democrats followed in their endorsement of the 62-year-old Albert, assuring his election as speaker unless Republicans win control of the House in the fall elections.

Democrats now hold a 244-186 edge, and are favored to keep control.

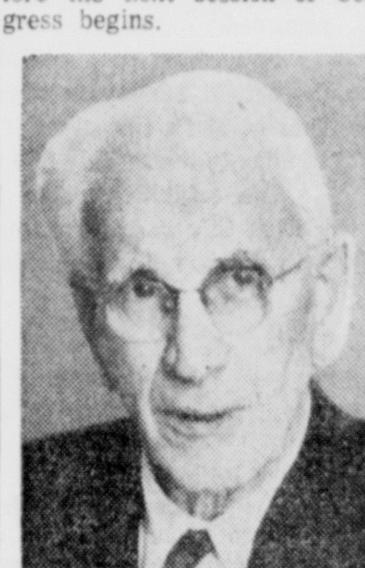

After the initial maneuvering, candidates began surfacing for Albert's present post.

First to announce was Rep. Morris K. Udall, 47, of Arizona, a liberal who contested McCormack for the speakership in January 1969, but fell far short. He was followed by Rep.

Richard Bolling of Missouri, a 54-year-old liberal who has been one of McCormack's chief critics, and Rep. James G. O'Hara of Michigan, 44, another liberal who has headed the House Democratic Study Group.

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, now the party's No. 3 man as whip, is known to be interested. Others mentioned include Reps. Dan Rostenkowski of Illinois, Edward P. Boland of Massachusetts, James C. Corcoran of California, Jack Brooks of Texas and John E. Moss of California.

The maneuvering will come to a climax when House Democrats caucus next January before the next session of Congress begins.

Protein From Starch

Large segments of the world's human population are afflicted not merely by hunger, but by protein hunger. Even among people who can be said to have "enough to eat" in terms of bulk, there is often a shortage of this vital food element. That is one of the key factors in the worldwide problem of malnutrition.

With this bit of background in mind, it can be seen that there is a great need for cheap foods high in protein. Food products of this kind have been created in several countries. Processes developed in the United States, Japan and elsewhere derive protein from various sources including soybeans and petroleum.

A British process just announced threatens, if not to overshadow methods already known, to give them stiff competition. A large food concern's researchers developed the process, in which starch can be converted into a substance containing 45 per cent protein—nearly twice as much as beef steak contains. Reportedly this substance is not merely a powder to be added to other foods, but can be made to resemble the texture and flavor of a wide variety of foods now on the market.

Whether the British product will outshine others of the kind remains to be seen. For one thing, there must be a series of nutritional tests, first on animals and later on people. It appears significant, however, that the British government's National Research Development Corp. describes the announcement of this food as one of this century's important scientific statements. It does have one advantage: it can be made from such abundant starchy crops as potatoes, yams and cassava. If tests bear out the early promise the British product, known as A3-5, may contribute importantly to solution of the world's malnutrition problem.

"Cambodia, college campuses, the market—I knew the midi might be a bad omen, but . . ."

To the Editor:

Allegory or Fairy Tale?

Once upon a time in a kingdom by the corn there lived a concerned, tax-paying citizen (name withheld) who had "had it up to here" with the college and universities—their students, their faculties and their administration, due to the then current unrest on campuses. His sentiments represented the thinking of many people in the kingdom, and these people thought: "Great! This citizen has said what he said for me, too."

It so happened that in this same kingdom by the corn there were two colleges, one comparatively liberal and one comparatively conservative, both of whose faculties, students and administrations had done their best to see that "emotional idealism" had not led to riot, rock throwing and overheated rhetoric.

Now when the people in the colleges heard the citizen, they understood much of his discontent and agreed reform was necessary; but many of them felt he was unduly polarizing the community, for they realized the quality and sophistication of the young people of their day, and they knew that, having taught these young people to reason and think for themselves, no one could expect students to accept as right what they believed to be wrong—whether it was in the name of "patriotism" or in conforming to the professed standards of another generation.

Also—the citizen—when he realized that the roll of the university was no longer merely to train people for a profession, but to train them for concerned, active citizenship, and that the college is not equipped to accept the roll of a parent watching over the morals of delayed adolescence, then he understood some of the problems of college administration, and he even admitted that the necessity for reform in his society was what brought on most student unrest.

So everyone in the kingdom decided to heed the words of their ruler: "When the action is hot, keep the rhetoric cool," and as it turned out both the concerned, tax-paying citizens and the concerned, tax-paying educators all lived happily together in the kingdom by the corn forever after.

To the Editor:

After 25 years, I returned May 16, 1970, to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, for Armed Forces Day.

It made me feel proud to see the huge American flag, the spic and span and polish of everything at the base, the neatness and the pride of our young soldiers completing their eight weeks of rough basic training. The morale of the boys was high; and after hearing them talk, we came away with a feeling that we are in good hands.

I might add we did not see a network TV camera taking pictures of the parade or of anything else.

I can only say to the boys from the Jacksonville area and other places, thank you for an interesting weekend.

Campus Violence May Endanger Voting Age Bill

By John Beckler
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The recent outbreaks of campus violence may have endangered one of the students' prized goals—lowering the voting age to 18.

With a House vote on the 18-year-old vote due next month, sponsors are worried a backlash effect may be building as anti-war sentiment continues to disrupt the colleges.

There is also concern the strongly anti-Nixon stance of the protesting students will make it harder to pick up the 40 or so Republican votes needed to pass the measure.

"I'd have to say its going to be tougher now," said Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill., who is leading the effort to build House Republican support for the bill.

Rep. Abner J. Mikva, D-Ill., a Democrat working actively for the measure, shares Railsback's concern. "Before all this," Mikva said, "studies showed that the students weren't in anybody's bag. In states where there is a lower voting age, they haven't changed the voting patterns much. But now Mr. Nixon has good reason to believe they are against him."

President Nixon already has come out against the Senate-passed bill, which calls for lowering the voting age by federal statute. Nixon has said it should be done by constitutional amendment.

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford is supporting the President's position, which makes Railsback's job even tougher.

Mikva said the 40 necessary Republican votes were in hand a few days ago, but there is some doubt about the GOP support now.

The backlash effect of student demonstrations and riots can be seen in letters coming into the House Judiciary Committee.

A man in Hackensack, N.J., said no country where students have political power is in very good shape, and a man in St. Louis wrote, "The past week has shown to the nation the irresponsibility and the lack of making qualified judgments by the students of this country."

On the other side, the mass of students crowding the Capitol corridors the past several days, lobbying for various antiwar amendments, have made a good impression on Congress.

Many have had their hair cut. They are neatly dressed, courteous and orderly, and show a keen awareness of what is going on.

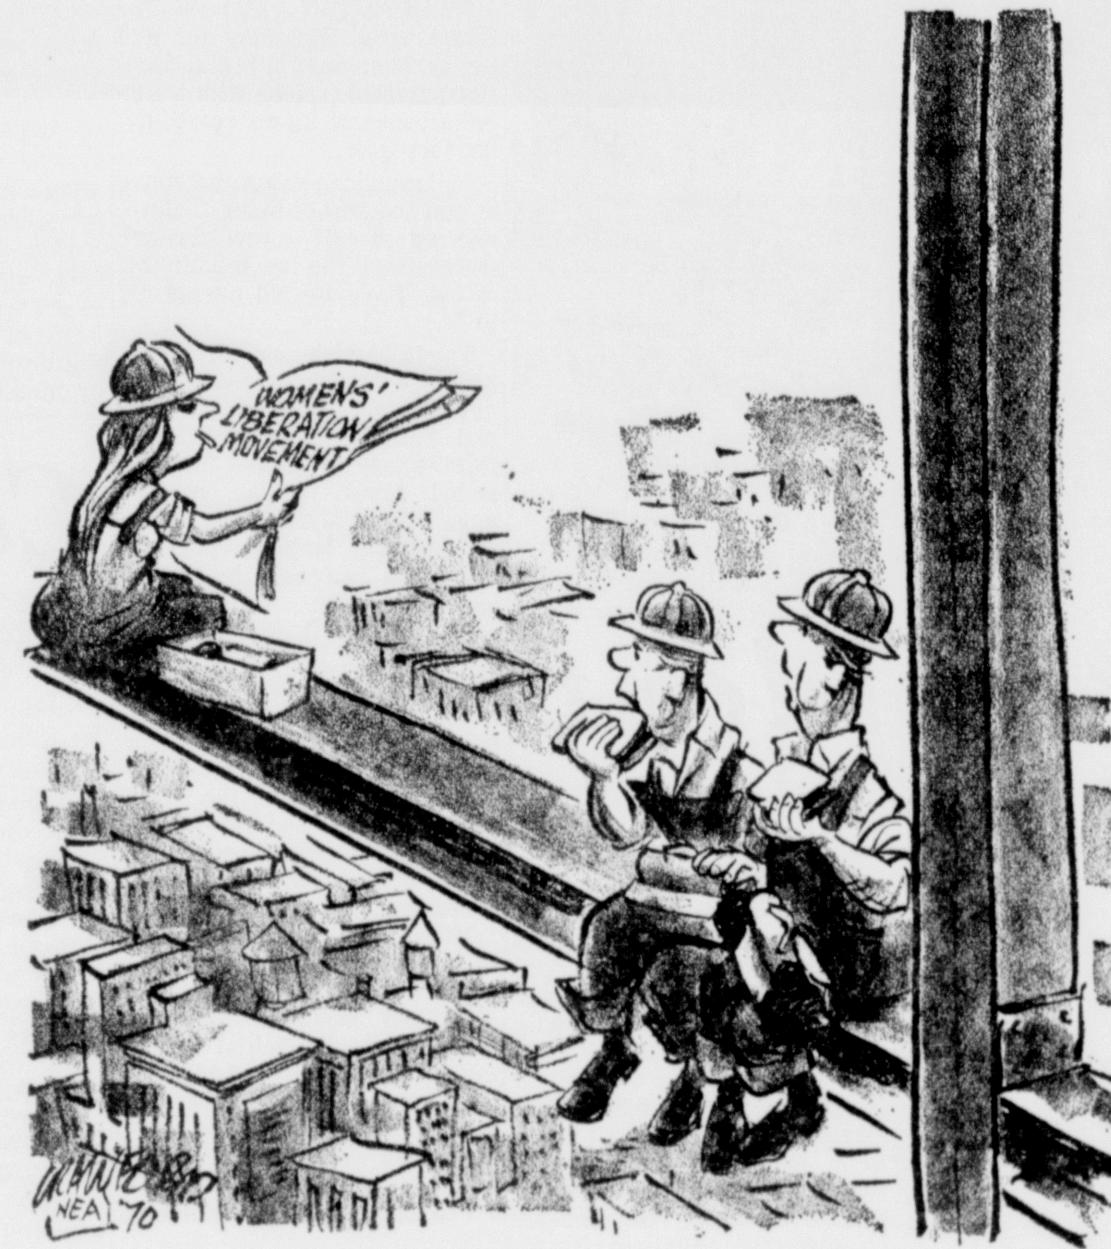

"They have behaved in an exemplary fashion," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., who, as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, will handle the age-vote bill on the floor.

"They have shown their interest in politics and their belief in the democratic process by coming here," Celler said. "It would be a devastating blow if they were to be rejected now."

The students' interest in political activity should cause concern among members who are thinking about denying them the vote, said Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr., D-Ind., who strongly supports the lowered voting age.

"There are a lot of them," said Jacobs, "and they'll work for your opponent for nothing. Why agitate the tiger?"

Why About-Face Sen. Fulbright?

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The other day a letter arrived from a doctor whose son was killed in Vietnam.

The doctor says in part: "It is hard to lose your son. It continues to be hard to listen to the people who, after sending him there, encouraged and cheered on his enemies while he was fighting, and after his death are trying to destroy what he gave his life for."

"I write you because I am appalled at the spectacle of Senator Fulbright's complete reversal on Vietnam between 1964 and 1966 . . .

"You are familiar with his book, 'Old Myths and New Realities' . . . The lead essay in this book was a speech Senator Fulbright delivered in the Senate on March 25, 1964. . . .

"I refer you to pages 41 through 44, in which he discusses Vietnam, pursuing a hard line indistinguishable from that of President Kennedy or President Johnson."

"He said, 'There are only two realistic options open to us in Vietnam in the immediate future: The expansion of the conflict in one way or another, or a renewed effort to bolster the capacity of the South Vietnamese to prosecute the war successfully on its present scale.'

"He also said, 'Our purpose is to uphold and strengthen the Geneva Agreements of 1954 and 1962—that is to say, to establish viable, independent states in Indochina and elsewhere in Southeast Asia, which will be free and secure from the domination of Communist China and Communist North Vietnam.'

"He even envisaged the possibility of having to carry the war to the territory of North Vietnam 'with a view to negotiating a reasonable settlement.'

"With this speech, followed by his serving as floor leader for the Gulf of Tonkin (Southeast Asia) Resolution in August, 1964, Senator Fulbright sent our son to Vietnam, where he was killed. How can this man, then, write 'The Arrogance of Power' in 1966? How can he say in 1970 that it is of little consequence to us if Indochina is conquered by North Vietnam? How can he say in 1970 that the patient had had a good night? She was told there was no point in trying to locate the floor nurse because 'the boy died early this morning.' The mother sank to her knees and her husband took the receiver from her hand."

Regrets Tattoo

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in the letter from the girl whose boyfriend asked her to have a butterfly tattooed on her hip. It seems the kook wanted a highly personal symbol of her undying love and devotion — something no one but he could see.

Please tell the girl not to be a fool. Four years ago I had my backside tattooed to prove to my fiance that I'd do anything for him. We are married now but not a day goes by that I don't regret my lunacy.

I, too, thought nobody but my true love would see it, but I was wrong. A lot of people have seen it. When I was hospitalized for my babies I was the talk of the maternity ward. Last year I joined an exercise class and had to drop out when the word got around. Everybody wanted to see the "tattooed lady." I felt like a circus freak.

I can't describe the misery this ridiculous thing has caused me. Please tell that gal to prove her undying love and devotion some other way — or better yet let him prove his by dropping the idea. — Sisters Under the Skin

Dear S.U.S.: One might call this exchange "The Tail of Two Sitties." Thanks for the testimonial. I hope your letter shook the Dickens out of her.

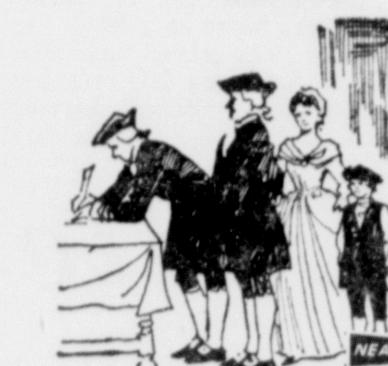

Dear Ann Landers: What has happened to decency, kindness, and love of one's fellow man? Every day I hear about another incident that causes me to mourn for the way our world is going. This morning my dear, sweet neighbor received the cruelest blow imaginable.

Her youngest son underwent surgery a few days ago. He was a lovable, bright-eyed boy of 13. The operation was a success, according to the doctor, but complications set in and he took a turn for the worse. His parents were with him until 9:00 p.m. last night. He seemed to be resting comfortably. The doctor assured them he was out of danger. This morning at 8 a.m. his mother phoned the hospital to ask if the patient had had a good night. She was told there was no point in trying to locate the floor nurse because "the boy died early this morning." The mother sank to her knees and her husband took the receiver from her hand.

"The time for debate, dissent and demonstration was the seven-month period between passage of the Tonkin Resolution in August, 1964, and its massive implementation in March, 1965. I could have accepted a decision either way at that time. I cannot accept a

The doctor sought to find an answer from Sen. Fulbright himself. But, he says, he received no reply.

Legion To Supervise Memorial Day Parade

The local American Legion Post 279 met in the Legion Home May 19 with Commander Lester Abbott presiding. Colors were posted by sergeant-at-arms Joe Palsgrove, and invocation given by Chaplain Herbert Dodsworth.

Minutes were read by Adjutant Edward F. Brennan.

Charles W. Quigg, Poppy chairman for Post 279 and 20th District American Legion, announced American Legion Poppy Days will be held in Jacksonville starting at 5:00 p.m. on Friday, May 22nd and ending Saturday, May 23rd at 12 noon.

He introduced Debbie Brennan "Miss Poppy of 1970". Debbie thanked the group for the opportunity to represent the Passavant Memorial Area Hospital association heard reports on the system's fiscal status at their monthly meeting Monday night and discussed such varied subjects as the maintenance of facilities to keep accreditation, means of transferring patients between the two buildings, a price increase for after-hour x-ray service, and the employment of a full-time, qualified hospital chaplain.

Earl Floret, president of the board, presided.

The financial condition of the hospital is excellent, the administrator reported. Income for the month of April exceeded expenses.

Edward F. Brennan, school medal award chairman, stated awards will be given this year to the students in Alexander Grade, Illinois School for the Deaf, Illinois Braille and Sight Saving, Salem Lutheran, Our Saviour's and Jonathan Turner schools.

The nomination of officers for the coming year will be at the next meeting June 2.

Discussion of standards for accreditation concerned some of the older parts of the Norris building which do not conform to State of Illinois standards.

It was decided to seek a decision from the State about when the State expects to withdraw approval for use of the non-conforming section of Norris.

A discussion of the most economical means of transferring patients between the two hospital buildings ended with a request that the executive committee of the board present a report on the situation at the May meeting.

The board voted to increase by $4 the charge for after-hour x-ray service for outpatients and emergency patients. Such an x-ray technician at overtime pay.

Approval was given to a recommendation from a special committee that a full-time professional chaplain be hired to serve hospital patients, employees, and student nurses.

Under sick call it was reported Harlan Williamson, Lawrence Redburn and Cliff Sandberg were hospitalized.

A short memorial service was conducted for Henry Scott, and other deceased Legionnaires.

The colors were retired and the meeting declared adjourned until the next scheduled meeting to be held on Tuesday, June 2 at 8:00 o'clock p.m. at the Legion Home.

HOSPITAL BOARD UPS OVERTIME OF X-RAY TECHNICIAN

Trustees of the Passavant Memorial Area Hospital association heard reports on the system's fiscal status at their monthly meeting Monday night and discussed such varied subjects as the maintenance of facilities to keep accreditation, means of transferring patients between the two buildings, a price increase for after-hour x-ray service, and the employment of a full-time, qualified hospital chaplain.

Earl Floret, president of the board, presided.

The financial condition of the hospital is excellent, the administrator reported. Income for the month of April exceeded expenses.

"We aim at a break-even budget but there are months in which we show a loss," administrator William R. Mitchell said. "A profitable month such as April helps to insure that we'll stay in the black."

YOUR BIRTHDAY AND HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, MAY 22—Born today, you are a person of deep insight. More inclined to act on the wisdom of intuition and instinct than that of reason, you make fewer mistakes than most people do when they cogitate for days before coming to a decision. Your instinctual knowledge of others leads you into the establishment of personal relationships both lasting and at the same time eternally new and fresh. You bring to such relationships both the wisdom of age and the charm of youth.

Your natural creative flow is very large in relation to the more conservative sort of thinking most people are destined to engage in most of their lives.

For this reason, you are capable of seeing to the heart of any given matter faster and much more personally than most people. You are able to put yourself in another's shoes with very little effort and in so doing to come face to face with that person's feelings, both joys and sorrows.

Your ability to place yourself in the position of another person and thus to feel as he does if only for a little while makes you a valuable asset to those who have to do with helping others. You may not be trained to take over the service yourself, but you could be a wonderful assistant to a doctor, a psychiatrist, a teacher, a social worker.

To find out what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Your subconscious powers may well direct you into activities in which you up to now have been inexperienced. Don't hesitate.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)

—Conscious ambitions will not be a real match for subconscious desires this morning. Don't be surprised at new thought channels.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — The greater personal dimensions you crave, the more work you will line up for yourself. Goals become attainable.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Take the strongest stand you can against those who would pit their principles against yours. You know what is right for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Be at some pains to keep the family from turmoil. The manner in which you approach small problems tells the tale today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Let your imagination add considerably to what would otherwise be a relatively drab, uninteresting day.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — You may be able to personalize your work today to such a degree that others will cherish it. Do your best to be different.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) — Another's jealous interest in your ambitions must not be fed with information. Keep your plans to yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)

—The wise Aquarius will emphasize only those things important to the family as a whole. Don't allow interference.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — An overwhelming desire to surpass another may lead you to overdo things today. Take care not to invite a health hazard.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Hidden traits have a tendency to become dominant today. You can keep your views to yourself if you guard your tongue sufficiently.

TAURUS (April 21-May 19)

—Inner tensions can be used to make this day extremely useful to you. Use your expertise with others to make gains for yourself.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Chymopapain Injection Replacing Disk Removal

(First of Two Related Columns) disk or herniated nucleus pulposus, can be cured by injecting it with chymopapain, a digestive enzyme derived from papaya. Can it be arrested? I wear a ya. This treatment is replacing disk removal of the affected disk in many cases.

Q—I am a man who has always been stoop-shouldered but lately it is getting worse. Is this hereditary? Could it be the cause of my backache? Is there any cure for it?

A—This type of spinal curvature may be caused by weakened back muscles or such diseases as muscular dystrophy, osteitis deformans (Paget's disease) or ankylosing spondylitis (Marie-Strumpell's disease). It is not hereditary. It may be associated with backache. The treatment would depend on the cause.

Q—Is there any effective treatment for scoliosis?

A—for the treatment of this S-shaped curvature of the spine to be effective, it should be discovered early, usually in childhood, and promptly treated by the application of a body cast or corrective brace.

Q—What is spondylitis of a vertebral segment? Will it get worse in time?

A—This is a chronic rheumatoid or tubercular arthritis of the spine. It usually results in a bent-over posture. As a rule, the disease is progressive and requires expert management by a team consisting of a rheumatologist, physiotherapist and an orthopedist.

Q—For ten months I have had a severe pain in my coccyx whenever I get up from a sitting position. It doesn't bother me when I walk or stand. My doctor calls it coccydynia. X rays showed nothing wrong. Could this be cancer? Do you know

NEW YORK (AP) — A survey scene is called a bummer and language. As time goes by, he said, these words either come into regular usage or they drop out altogether.

A good phonograph record, she reported, is one that may really move, be good vibes, played by a together group and either smokin' or cool, depending on where you happen to be speaking.

Mrs. Weinér also reported finding phrases such as stud, neat and outasight coming up again and again.

A noted expert on words, Dr. H. Bosley Woolf, managing editor of the Merriam-Webster dictionaries, said teen-agers, as well as members of other "in" groups frequently create their own languages as a means of excluding outsiders. But, said Dr. Woolf, eventually the outsiders catch on and they may adopt words as part of their own

For instance, she said, a good party isn't just a good party anymore. It's a blast or a kickin' gig. It might also be called bad or insane, even a bust. On the other hand, a bad

Two European countries, Norway and the Netherlands, are honoring the occasion with postage stamps commemorating the peace anniversary and their subsequent freedom.

Norway's two stamps stress two of its vital contributions to the total war effort. The 70 ore red violet hails the resistance of the underground movement with a symbolic "V" for victory motif. The 100 ore blue green pays tribute to the Norwegian mercantile marine which aided the Allied cause. The design features Norwegian ships at sea. The dates 1945-1970 appear at the bottom of each stamp.

The Netherlands stamp highlights a "V" rising from darkness. The text at the bottom of the red, blue and brown stamp reads "1945 Nederland VRIJ" (1945 Netherlands Liberated). This stamp also symbolizes freedom and victory after years of occupation.

Minkus Stamp Journal, Vol. 5, No. 2—Spring 1970, just off the press, is perhaps the best and most colorful of the fine publication issues. The cover and main story are devoted to the four-stamp set of 6-centers by the U.S. commemorating the centennial of the American Museum of Natural History. There is a four-color center spread depicting the stamps of Great Britain, Animal Kingdom stamps (for topical collectors) and the stamps of Papua and New Guinea. Other stories include a philatelic visit to Finland, New York—a History of Stamps, and new issues. The Minkus Stamp Journal can be obtained for 50 cents direct from the publishers at 116 W. 32nd Street, N.Y., N.Y. 10001.

Postmaster Gen. Winton M. Blount announced that a U.S. postage stamp will be issued to commemorate the Stone Mountain Memorial Carving in Georgia. The large work of sculptured art has been in progress for nearly half a century. The carving features the mounted figures of Robert E. Lee, Jefferson Davis and Stonewall Jackson.

Located in a 3,800 acre state park 16 miles east of Atlanta, the memorial carving was conceived in 1909 but it was not until 1923 that the work got underway directed by Gutzon Borglum who later was responsible for sculptures on the mountainside at Mt. Rushmore, S.D. In 1925 Borglum resigned and August Lukman continued the work until he died in 1935. World War II and lack of funds again halted the carving until 1963 when Walter Hancock was named to complete the job.

Design and date of the new stamp will be announced soon.

Stamp collectors who also are interested in photography, or who like to add special illustrations to their albums, have a treat in store for them.

A set of eight full-color, and two black and white lithograph pictures showing highlights of man's return from the moon on Apollo 12 are now available. The set includes several firsts: Surveyor III being visited by an astronaut, the sun being eclipsed by earth, an unexplained mound on the lunar surface. Each of the lithographs is printed on high quality 11x14 paper, suitable for framing.

Orders should be sent to: Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Ask for Apollo 12 Set number 6. The price is $1.50 per set.

AREA METHODIST

WSCS MEETING

The WSCS of the Lynnville United Methodist church met with Mrs. Robert Killam Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Denby Ransom, Sr., and Mrs. Inez Stainsforth as assistant hostesses.

South had no problem about going on to game. His 17 high-card points were gilt-edged.

West opened the queen of

and South had to win the third lead.

He continued with a low club and against normal defense would have probably gone down two tricks. He would let East win the first club with his queen. East would shift to a heart and South would try the heart finesse and wind up losing four spades, one heart and one club. We say probably, because South might have gone up with the ace of hearts and settled for a sure down one.

Things didn't go quite that way. West was some sort of expert; and when South led that low club, West started to think.

His thoughts went something like this: "Either South or my partner holds the queen of clubs. If South holds it, he is going to finesse; and my king is doomed. Suppose East holds that queen of clubs plus two small ones. If I play low, South will put in dummy's jack. My partner will take his queen and later on South will be able to run the rest of the club suit.

On the other hand if I play the king, South will have to take his ace right away and the club suit will be dead."

Mrs. Sallie Stapleton was hostess for the May meeting of the Alexander WSCS held at the church.

The president, Mrs. Carmen Becker, had charge of the meeting. The secretary and treasurer gave their reports after the opening song.

Announcement was made of the Youth Mission Seminar

from July 20 to 24 in Nashville, Tennessee.

Reports were heard from

Mrs. Irene Cockin and Mrs.

Hazel Isaacs on the Annual District WSCS meeting at Rushville

Methodist church April 7.

Mrs. Carmen Becker also gave a report on the Conference Women's Society of Christian Service meeting at Bloomington in the Scottish Rite Temple.

The new WSCS officers chosen for the coming year are president, Mrs. Carmen Becker; vice president, Mrs. Irene Cockin;

Nashville Hopefuls Find It Can Be Long Three Miles To Opry House

By BILL RAWLINS
Associated Press Writer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — If you have to, you can walk across the Shelby Street Bridge spanning the Cumberland River from Mom Upchurch's rooming house to the Grand Ole Opry House three miles away.

And, if you're just breaking into the country music business, you may have to. When you hit Music City, U.S.A., with a guitar, $10 in your jeans and hope, you don't hire many taxis.

You also find out that it can be a long three miles to the Opry House—and you may never get there at all.

Edgel Groves, 28, made his first money picking and singing 12 years ago in an Akron, Ohio, night club. Since then, he's been to every state in the nation, made a few records for labels few people would recognize.

But most who come here are boys, in their late teens, and single. They come each year by the thousands, by bus, by car and by thumb. And for 25 years, Mom Upchurch's has been a haven for the young musician, dreaming of the bigtime—and not realizing that in this business, you've never really got it made.

"I guess I've had about 2,000 boys here," smiled Mrs. Upchurch, gray, bespectacled—and motherly. "I tell them it's their home. They have the run of the house. Sometimes, we have jam sessions, when they can all get together. But they're on the road so much."

Boyleen served eight months in Hawaii and Vietnam, received the Bronze Star and Purple Heart awards. He and Mrs. Boyleen live near Timewell, where he is farming.

The Capri Swims club pool at the Land of Lincoln motel here will be ready for use on Memorial Day at 1 p.m. according to an recent announcement. There are still several openings for family memberships.

A marriage license was issued last week to John Dennis Michael of Anderson, Indiana, and Carol Joan Busen of Mt. Sterling at the Brown County Clerk's office.

But even if they make it big, car, en route to a one-night performance, the pattern of their life doesn't sonal appearance in Alabama in 1952.

The divorce rate is high. It's not much of a life for a wife or a husband whose mate is never home.

But still they come. Like Edgel Groves or Dianne Davidson.
And all of them have to write their own songs.

"That's the problem of the young singer," explains Audie Ashworth, an executive with the Hubert Long talent agency, one of the giants in the country and Western field. "The established writers want to place their songs with the established stars.
That means if the young singer can't write his own material, if he can't get anywhere—and if he still can't get anywhere."

MERRITT FAMILIES
HAVE BIRTHDAY
PICNIC AT PARK

MERRITT — A pot-luck picnic supper was held at Ebaugh Park Sunday, May 10, in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Margery Clanton, Albert Coats and Earl Clanton; also the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Coats. Those present were Mrs. Zelma Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lison, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Metcalf, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Coats and Rosemary; George Coats, Clarence Williamson, Earl Clanton, and Ronnie Moore.

Mrs. Lucille Funk visited with Mrs. Mary Mathews Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Illene Grady returned home Tuesday after being a patient in Passavant hospital about three weeks. She is somewhat improved but still very ill.

Mrs. Karl Longenbaugh attended a Missionary Meeting at the First Baptist church Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Idyll Emmons returned to her employment this weekend in Jacksonville. Mrs. Emmons had been home a few weeks on account of illness.

Mrs. Bessie Moore returned to her home after being in Norris hospital a few days last week.

Sam Coats and Dottie Lizenby were shoppers in Jacksonville Monday morning.

Bud Pressey and family and his mother spent Sunday at Swan Lake where Bud delivered the morning and evening sermons at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Korty visited Hester Korty Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harrell and Donnie called on Mr. and Mrs. John Frye Sunday evening.

Norma Jean Allen of Galesburg spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huddleston. On Mother's Day afternoon, Norma and her mother took flowers to the Bowers cemetery to put on relatives graves.

GOOD NEWS for the Symphony Society came during the annual manager's and treasurer's reports last week when it was learned that all debts were paid. Part of the reason is demonstrated by Mrs. A. John Pearson (left) who designed a dress from towels commemorating Jacksonville points of interest. Towel sales helped produce the healthy fiscal year for the society. Officials at the meeting were Vern Fernandes, business manager; John Hayter, conductor and musical director; Mrs. Don Atkins, retiring president; and Oliver Buck, secretary. The towels are still available at the Jacksonville Art Center, on East State St.

Polly's Pointers

Make A Nice Bathrobe Of Three Bath Towels

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY—Mrs. E.L.K. could use the following directions for making a towel robe with ribbon ties. Three large matching bath towels are needed, an open-end neck zipper 22 or 24 inches long, about two yards of wide ribbon to match the towels and matching thread.

Fold one towel in half lengthwise and cut the neck opening in the center. Run basting stitches along one end of each of the other two towels. Pull stitches up to make gathers to fit front and back yoke measurements on first towel and sew to it. Leave ends for sleeves. If towels are fringed, this will leave fringe at the bottom of the robe and across the ends of the sleeves. Sew under-arm seams and side seams to within six or eight inches of the bottom. Cut opening in the back from center of neck to the length of the zipper. Insert zipper according to directions. Bind neck opening with ribbon. Sew an end of the remaining ribbon to each of the side seams so it comes over the seam where the yoke and bottom were attached. Tie in a bow in front. Good luck, Mrs. E.L.K.—FLORENCE

DEAR POLLY—Mrs. J.B.C. wanted to know how to make a towel coat sweater. Mine is made of three towels at least 25 inches wide. I use a blouse or dress pattern and cut the back from one towel, making darts at the shoulder. Cut so the fringe is on the bottom. Take second towel for one sleeve and one side of the front. The third towel will make the other sleeve and the other side of the front. Besure to cut so the fronts have fringe on the bottom, too. The part left from cutting out the sleeves can be pieced in the back to make a square, sailor-type collar which lays nice and flat. Use small scraps to make patch pockets for each side of the front. Sew together as you would a blouse or jacket. This style made with three towels allows for long sleeves whereas using two long sleeves will not be longer than elbow length.—LORETTA

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—We no longer use our large standing bird cage and I hate to discard it. Can someone suggest some use for it or something we could make out of it?—HELEN

Annual Decatur Memorial Day Races Scheduled

DECATUR — An estimated 20,000 persons from throughout Illinois and the Midwest are expected to attend the Third Annual Memorial Day Weekend Water Festival to be held on Lake Decatur at Decatur.

The two-day Power Boat Regatta is sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association and will attract top racing drivers and boat owners from throughout the Association's Eastern Division, which ranges from Canada to the Gulf Coast and from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic.

Feature event on Memorial Day will be "The Bill Heath Invitational Grand Prix for Hydroplanes" which carries $500 in prize money and a perpetual trophy. On Sunday, May 31st the top attraction will be Illinois State Championship Boat Races. The races both days will be run on a 1 2-3rd mile surveyed course which will allow national records to be made. Entries will include nine classes of inboard hydroplanes and two classes of outboard pleasure craft. A fast-paced program on both days calls for races approximately every 15 minutes.

The Regatta is sponsored by the Decatur Water Festival Corporation and is primarily supported by the voluntary contributions of Decatur citizens and local business firms. Visitors will have an opportunity to contribute one dollar per family to help defray expenses if they wish, but there will be no admission charge and any donation is strictly voluntary.

Gophers Await Chance To Catch Big Ten Leaders

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnesota's defending champion Gophers must play the waiting-and-winning-game this weekend for any chance of overthrowing unbeaten Ohio State in the scheduled closing round of Big Ten baseball play.

Ohio State, which had four games cancelled because campus riots closed the Buckeye school recently, takes a 10-0 record against invading Wisconsin (7-4) and last-place Northwestern (1-1) in twin bills Friday and Saturday.

Minnesota (13-3) closes the 18-game conference season Sunday in a doubleheader against visiting Iowa (6-9).

If Ohio State drops three games of its regularly scheduled remaining four and Minnesota sweeps the set from Iowa, the Gophers could win the title percentage-wise. Minnesota then would have a 15-3 record for .833 and Ohio State 11-3 for .813.

However, Ohio State last week was instructed by Big Ten athletic directors at their Bloomington, Ind., meeting, to make an effort to reschedule the pair each at Michigan and Michigan State cancelled the May 8-9 weekend because of the Buckeye campus trouble.

If circumstances dictate this weekend, Buckeye play at Michigan State and Michigan may be booked for Sunday or early next week, prior to the start of the NCAA district playoffs. The Big Ten champion automatically wins an NCAA berth.

The Big Ten directors also ruled, however, that if the cancelled games could not be rescheduled, they would be treated as contests rubbed out by bad weather.

It was learned some conference coaches are unhappy over the possibility of Ohio State winning the title with a botched season while Minnesota played out its entire schedule. Two of the Gophers' three setbacks were by Ohio State.

Other conference final round games: (all doubleheaders)

Friday—Illinois (8-6) at Michigan; Northwestern at Indiana; and Purdue (6-8) at Michigan State (5-5).

Saturday—Illinois at Michigan State; Purdue at Michigan; and Wisconsin at Indiana.

Suns Get Count For Goodrich

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Phoenix Suns of the National Basketball Association announced Thursday the acquisition of 7-foot Mel Counts from the Los Angeles Lakers for guard Gail Goodrich.

The 6-1 Goodrich, a former UCLA star, came to the Suns in the 1968 expansion draft after playing three seasons for the Lakers.

Counts, 29, switching between center and forward, is considered one of the best outside shooters among the big men in the NBA. Counts was with the Lakers for three seasons, averaging 12.6 points a game with a 18-game total of 683 rebounds.

Business — Market Wrapup

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — How do you stand on the issue of metrication?

You mean to say that you weren't aware of metrication as an issue—that the United States might some day abandon the familiar inch-gallon-pound system of measurement in favor of meters, liters and grams?

Although it is difficult to imagine that Americans must take a stand on still another issue in these controversial times, the fact of the matter is that the government is planning to solicit their views on just such a change.

If the change indeed ever comes, it is likely to be gradual, for it will be a long time before Americans can adjust to a Willie Mays hitting 150-meter home runs, or of buying 500 grams or 10 liters of gasoline.

By the end of the month, however, hundreds of manufacturers may receive questionnaires from the National Bureau of Standards to determine their stand on metrication and, if possible, to estimate the costs of conversion.

Later surveys will probe into the attitudes of other areas of society in order that a report be made to Congress under a law passed in August 1968. But the report won't necessarily recommend that any action be taken.

In fact, Congress has off and on considered the matter for more than 100 years, but almost nothing has been done. Now the United States, which inherited its present system from England, could find itself alone in its use.

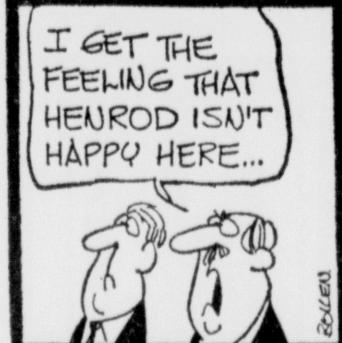

England plans to convert by 1975. Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa have set various dates for doing the same. Asia and Latin America have long used meters.

A great deal of confusion presumably could develop if the United States continued to manufacture products based on its own mathematical language while the rest of the world used a separate system.

Perhaps the problem is more obvious in the sports world. Should the customary one-mile run in U.S. track be changed to 1,600 meters, a change in terminology alone? Or should it be rounded off to fit more easily the metric system at, let us say, 1,600 meters even?

The answer could have incredibly wide-ranging effects. Educational requirements, engineering drawings, manufacturer specifications, labels, dials and gauges, machine tool measurements, the marketing of automobiles, and on and on.

Scientists Find Way To View Single Atoms

CHICAGO (AP) — A University of Chicago scientist and two assistants have found a way to view single atoms—a technique that will permit the study of biological processes in far greater detail than ever before.

Dr. Albert V. Crewe, professor of physics at the university, said Wednesday the technique grew out of six years of research and work.

The development should greatly assist research in such fields as medicine, biochemistry and genetics, he said. The visibility of atoms and their arrangement in molecules can be particularly valuable in analyzing cancer cells and chromosomes, he added.

The technique uses a 25,000-volt electron microscope developed by Crewe. He was assisted by two graduate students, Joseph S. Wall of Madison, Wis., and John Preston Langmore of Santa Monica, Calif. The research was financed by the Atomic Energy Commission at a cost of $750,000 to $1 million, he said.

Crewe told a news conference that the viewing of the atom within the molecule was achieved two months ago.

Molecules are the tiny particles of which matter is composed. They are made up of atoms measuring about four one-billionths of an inch in diameter. Atoms are the basic units of all elements and have been seen only indirectly until now.

REPORT DECLINE IN NATION'S CATHOLICS

NEW YORK (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church says the number of Catholics in the United States has declined for the first time in this century.

The Official Catholic Directory reported Wednesday that the church also experienced declines during the last year in the number of infant baptisms, converts, and students attending Catholic elementary schools, high schools, seminaries and colleges.

The nation's Catholics declined by 1,149 persons to 47,872,089, or 23.5 per cent of the U.S. population. The decline paralleled similar downturns in several major Protestant denominations.

The number of Catholic elementary and high schools fell by 588 to 12,029; diocesan seminaries dropped by 19 to 118; and Catholic colleges declined by 606 to 12,822.

Tone Down Call For University Representatives

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois House Wednesday softened the tone of a resolution calling upon university officials to testify next week about student rebellion on their campuses.

Instead of "demanding" that the school officers appear at a hearing Monday, the House approved a reworded resolution asking them to be present.

Another change from the original resolution, which was adopted Tuesday, cuts down the number of persons invited to appear in the House chamber from 93 to 28.

The new resolution includes all the presidents of state-supported universities but excludes chancellors and the entire membership of the various boards of trustees.

Instead, the chairman and executive director of the four boards governing the universities and two officers of the board of higher education were asked to be present.

The resolution, offered by Rep. Webber Borchers, R-Decatur, states the reason for the public hearing is to find out why universities are being closed.

The only one shut down in Illinois is Southern Illinois University.

APPROVE FUNDS FOR SUPERSONIC TRANSPORT JET

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today approved an additional $290 million for continued development of a civil supersonic transport aircraft.

It also included in a $7 billion omnibus appropriation bill funds to employ 2,265 new air traffic personnel.

The bill, scheduled for House action next week, provides financing for fiscal year 1971 for the Department of Transportation and related agencies.

The amount is $113 million less than the administration requested but $380 million more than was appropriated for the current year ending June 30.

The bill's total included $4.4 billion to liquidate contracts made in past years.

Hurricane Alma Rakes Jamaica

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricane Alma, with pouring rains and slashing winds, raked Jamaica and the Cayman Islands Thursday and headed for Cuba.

The three islands of the Cayman chain—the homes of fishermen which in recent years have begun attracting tourists seeking the rustic island life—had winds of about 40 knots, the National Hurricane Center estimated.

Jamaica, with spas that attract millions of tourist dollars a year, took the heaviest blows on its western end.

But Alma's path took her between the Caymans and Jamaica and on a course that would carry the fraying storm—with winds just barely of hurricane force at 75 miles per hour in the center—over land in Camaguey Province on the eastern end of Cuba.

Kraff said Cuba would begin to feel local winds of gale force and get heavy rains later today in the eastern and central sections of the island.

Gales in squalls extended out 200 miles to the northeast and 50 miles to the southwest of the center at dawn today.

Kraff said, however, that conditions were not favorable for strengthening of the storm to-day.

An Air Force pilot in a hurricane hunter plane was ordered into the storm today to check its strength.

At 6 a.m. Alma was centered near Latitude 19 North, Longitude 80 West, or about 50 to 100 miles east of Grand Cayman and 500 miles south of Miami.

Alma was moving toward the northeast at about 10 m.p.h.

Small boats across South Florida—from Palm Beach through the Keys—were advised to stay in port.

Alma is only the second Atlantic area storm in this century to reach hurricane force during the month of May. Hurricane season officially begins June 1.

GLEN STINSON

Stinson Becomes Mac's Top Stick

With one swing of the bat, MacMurray College senior Glenn Stinson established himself as the College's all-time leading hitter.

The hit, a three-run homer in Hollywood fashion (two-out in the bottom of the seventh against Northeastern Illinois State while trailing 5-2), gave Stinson the MacMurray records for most base hits (90) and most home runs (11). He added a single in the second game of the season-ending double-header for a final career total of 101.

The home run put Stinson second in career rbi's at MacMurray with 63, and tied the school mark for most homers in a season.

Scheiter said that there were about 45 applicants for the two jobs.

On the hiring of Winstead, Camp Point Superintendent Raymond Scheiter Thursday commented, "We feel Bob is the person to fill our needs and we are all looking forward to working with him. We are confident that he can do us the job."

Scheiter said that there were about 45 applicants for the two jobs.

Stinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Stinson of 4848 Stanhope Street in St. Louis, became the second hitter in MacMurray Highlander history to hit .300 or better for four seasons. His .333 clip this year boosted his career average to .339.

Other records held by Stinson are most doubles in a season (8) and most career doubles (24). He stands fourth in career triples with four; eighth in career stolen bases (11) and fifth in RBI's for a season (18).

Five other starters will graduate off of MacMurray baseball squad.

Third baseman Dan Doyle of Mason City ended the season with a .300 mark and a .278 career average. His 74 base hits place him third on the all-time MacMurray list.

Senior right-hander Mark Thomas of Lockport, Ill., bowed out with a 0.74 earned run average and a 1.2 record (losses were 1-0 to Illinois State University and 3-1 to Southern Illinois University). Thomas holds the school records for best ERA in a season (0.64 in 1969), most strikeouts in a game (15 achieved twice in 1969), and second in career victories with 14.

Also lost to graduation will be hurler Jim Long of Homestead, Ill., whose 8-4 career record in the best won-lost percentage to date; Russ McLauchlan of Old Greenwich, Conn., holder of the record for most assists in a season (61), and veteran centerfielder Tom Coulston of Chicago.

Kelly Is Named GM Of Penguins

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Red Kelly was officially named general manager and coach of the Pittsburgh Penguins of the National Hockey League Thursday.

In the general manager's post, he succeeds Jack Riley who was promoted to executive director.

It had been rumored for several days that the 42-year-old Kelly would return for his second season as Pittsburgh coach.

Kelly led the Penguins to their first playoffs in the NHL's West Division in their three-year history.

He succeeded Red Sullivan after leading the Los Angeles Kings to two playoff spots in the two years he coached there.

Carlton Whiffs 16 But Cards Lose 4-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tony Taylor's ninth-inning single gave Philadelphia a 4-3 victory over St. Louis Thursday night, spoiling a 16-strikeout performance by Steve Carlton and a dramatic home run by Richie Allen.

After Allen's 14th homer keyed a three-run Cardinal rally which tied the game in the top half of the ninth, Johnny Briggs opened the Phils' half with an infield single. Byron Browne sacrificed and after an intentional walk and a strikeout, Taylor singled Briggs home.

Allen, making his first appearance in Philadelphia since being traded to the Phils to the Gagliano opened with a pinch single, Allen cracked his 14th homer of the year. Then St. Louis tied it on a walk to Joe Torre and singles by Carl Taylor and Joe Hague.

Evashevski Denies Charge By Nagel

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Forest Evashevski, who has resigned University of Iowa athletic director, said Thursday he quit because he doesn't want to continue in the job and suggested Chalmers "Bump" Elliott of Michigan would "be an excellent man for this school."

Evashevski made his remarks at a news conference at which he denied a charge by ousted head football coach Ray Nagel that Evashevski had expressed interest in resuming the coaching reins he relinquished in 1960.

He said this and other charges by Nagel read "like a big typographical error."

Evashevski retorted Thursday that Nagel "has not exactly been a stranger to difficulties" during his four years at Iowa.

He said Nagel "has gone through five assistant coaches" and three quarterbacks under Nagel had failed to finish their careers.

Evashevski also denied Nagel's charge that he had directed all foot ball assistants to falsify expense accounts. Charges that there have been irregularities in expense accounts of some coaches have been under investigation by the university and the state auditor's office.

Nagel said Wednesday his aides had followed the expense account procedure specified by Evashevski.

Evashevski, however, said falsifying expense accounts is an NCAA violation and he wanted his coaches to abide by NCAA rules.

He said he didn't agree with the athletic board's action Tuesday but said the board and university president Willard Boyd, who acquiesced in the decision, "haven't acted without due consideration."

He added that he feels he has always been fairly treated during his 18 years at Iowa and now "I am bowing out." He said he has made no plans, but may remain in Iowa City and enter won.

Evashevski urged an end to feuding and for all hands to start looking to the future instead of talking about the years when he built Iowa into a national football powerhouse.

"I'm sick of hearing about the Evashevski era with two Rose Bowls and three (Big Ten) titles in five years," he said. "Anyone with a genuine fondness for the university and the athletic program should now look to the future."

Eight-Run Fifth Carries Indians To 10-7 Victory

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ray Fosse triggered an eight-run fifth inning Cleveland explosion with a grand slam homer and the Indians hung on for a 10-7 victory over Boston Thursday night.

The Indians big inning gave them a 10-1 lead, but the Red Sox bounced back in the sixth with five runs, including a two-run homer by George Scott.

Bob Miller, coming out of the bullpen to make his first start for Cleveland, gave up only one run on four hits over five innings. But three Tribe relievers gave up five runs in the sixth after Miller went out for a pinch-hitter.

Hickman, Hall Rip Home Runs In Exhibition

CHICAGO (AP) — Home runs by Jim Hickman and Jimmy Hall led the Chicago Cubs to a 7-6 victory Thursday night over the Chicago White Sox in the annual Boys Benefit exhibition baseball game.

A crowd of 28,863 turned out for the game in Comiskey Park, including an unidentified woman who was chased from the Cubs dugout.

In the seventh inning, plate umpire John Rice left his position to eject the woman from the dugout. When she refused to leave, Rice pulled her up the dugout stairs by the arm and then watched as she disappeared into the stands.

Hickman's homer was estimated at 450 feet and struck the base of the light tower atop the left field roof. It came in the second inning with a man on base and put the Cubs ahead 2-1.

The Cubs scored four times in the fourth against Jerry Arrigo to increase their lead to 6-3.

Hall's homer came with the bases vacant in the seventh and proved to be the decisive run.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — A wide-open race for the team championship is expected in the 76th annual Illinois High School Track and Field meet this weekend.

Friday's preliminaries will lead to the finals of the 15-event program Saturday afternoon in Illinois' Memorial Stadium.

Defending champion Alton again challenges although being jarred when its ace long jumper, George Gilchrist, failed to qualify in district trials. Alton won last year with 25 points.

In what should be a low-scoring affair, other highly-regarded contenders are Springfield Southeast, East Moline, Bloom, Willowbrook, Moline, Chicago Englewood and Evanston.

All of these schools qualified both their 880 and mile relay teams as well as a number of individuals. Springfield Southeast headed qualifiers with a total of 12 plus its two baton units.

The meet easily could be decided in the relays, where Alton has posted the best 880 time of 1:28.7 and Bloom the best in the mile with 3:21.4.

David Merrick of Lincoln-Way, 16-year-old junior, will bypass the mile run and concentrate on the two-mile. He has clocked 8:56.5 this season compared to the record 9:96.1. If weather conditions are good, he will shoot for the national scholastic mark of 8:41.5 set last year by Steve Prefontaine of Coos Bay, Ore.

Merrick is one of four performers who have bettered state records this spring. The others are Jack Haynes of Springfield Southeast in the 180-yard low hurdles around a curve with 19.3 compared to the 19.6 established last year; Paul Andrews, Champaign Central, with 186 feet-8 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches in the discus compared to the 184 standard; and Tom Stock, Bellville West, with 64 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches in the shot against the record 62-10 $\frac{1}{4}$.

The meet is more unpredictable than ever because of the almost complete turnover of defending champions. Only one returns — Gayn Sweet of Colfax-Batavia in the high jump.

McGlothlin Gets Second Shutout On Two-Hitter

HOUSTON (AP) — Jim McGlothlin fired a two-hitter and John Bench whacked three hits including a long home run Thursday night as the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the Houston Astros 3-0.

McGlothlin, winning his fifth and second straight shutout, allowed only a scratch single to Joe Morgan in the first inning and Jesus Alou's solid single to right in the fourth. No Astro reached second base.

Bench's 13th homer was a poke of some 400 feet in the fourth.

How To Win '500'

By MARIO ANDRETTI

Written for NEA

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (NEA)

—A lot of race drivers, fellows I meet in Europe when I'm driving the Grand Prix circuit, will say, "Mario, it must be pretty simple driving at Indy, on an oval track like that...."

Well, it just so happens that I find driving Indianapolis a very demanding task.

Indy has certain peculiarities and you better know them. It has no escape roads, no wooden fences to break through and no sloping crash walls to bounce off. It has that high concrete rim. In the toughest spots, it not only has an outside wall but another one on the inside.

At Indy I find it is very tough to go really fast and be comfortable. More so than most race tracks, it is so easy to lose a half second here and there. When you lose you can never seem to make up. You really have to be disciplined going through those corners.

1. Getting through the first turn.

Let's take it from the top, where I started last year in the STP-Hawk for Andy Granatelli, right in the middle of the first row. You see the pace car duck out...the green flag flies and you know you have a start.

It can easily be that your engine is fouled or you won't have your revs up. One of the three guys in that front row, I guarantee you, will have a clean engine, one that is really putting out the power. This time, in the middle, you could easily get yourself sandwiched. So you watch close to the right and then to the left. You know, without thinking about it, that it can become a very dangerous spot. Last year, I operated my STP Special just like you run up a plane for a take-off on a short field.

I had the throttle down and the brakes on hard. And when you let that brake off, you get a real surge of acceleration. I just really had those binders clamped on and the whole car was vibrating.

You get away fine and head for the first turn. First man into the corner takes the groove. He takes his line.

2. Tricky business in the second turn.

Then what I do, I drift as close...just as close as I dare to go to the short wall and make about the same kind of approach into the second turn. In the second turn, there's a hump there, where the paving butts together. You've got to make sure once again that you go over that one with the car absolutely straight and not turning.

I say this is the quickest turn of all. For some reason or other you can go deep into it, faster than any of the others. And I just get off the throttle and back on again.

On the mile tracks we mostly stay right up on the straightaway walls, so we're set to dive into the corners with a nice arc.

But at Indy the walls set up a buffeting at those high speeds that sets your goggles vibrating and pounds at your ears and actually seems to do something to your speed. If you ever try to stay up there, you know right away that something's really wrong.

3. How to pass — fast.

The best place to pass a man is at the start of either straight. Now as you come out of the corner, say you're trying to set up a man...to pass him.

Kerr Top Candidate With 76ers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John

Red Kerr, former player, coach and radio color man in the National Basketball Association, appears to be the leading candidate for general manager of the Philadelphia 76ers.

Owner Irv Kosloff of the 76ers admitted Thursday he has talked with Kerr three times and met with him once in Minneapolis to discuss the possibility of the one-time pro center succeeding Jack Ramsay as G.M. Ramsay recently was relieved of his general manager's duties but remained as 76ers' coach.

Kerr said also that Kerr is among the top five applicants for the job. The 76ers' owner knows the 6-foot-9 Kerr very well, since Kerr played for the 76ers and worked as a salesman in the off season for the owner's paper manufacturing company.

"We (the paper company) were sorry to see him leave and go back into coaching," Kosloff said Thursday. "We would have liked him to remain with us. He was a good businessman."

Kerr was out playing golf in Phoenix, Ariz., Thursday, but his wife, Betsy, disclosed that he recently severed connections with the Phoenix Suns of the NBA. He coached the Suns until January, 1970, when he was dismissed. He finished last season as color man on the Suns' radio broadcast team.

Kerr played 11 seasons in the NBA, with Syracuse, Philadelphia and Baltimore. He holds the league record of 937 consecutive games, and scored 13,413 points. He came to Philadelphia when the Syracuse franchise was transferred here. After the 76ers reacquired Wilt Chamberlain from San Francisco, Kerr was dealt to Baltimore for guard Wally Jones.

properly, because that will determine where he can. Behind you.

So...you come out of the second turn, going as wide as possible, drifting again and going as close as you dare to the back straight wall. And if everything is working perfectly in that corner, you're absolute flat on the floor with your throttle at the apex of the corner and you really come out hard.

NANTUCKET of the AEGEAN

The harbor and the town—a rockbound amphitheater of tall, handsome buildings.

The island has a permanent colony of foreign painters and writers.

Wine, and water too, are shipped in to the nearly waterless island.

Each woman sweeps her part of the whitewashed streets.

Angled streets of steps—traversed with ease by sure-footed donkeys.

The sea brought riches to Hydra's traders, fishermen and pirates; their mansions and warehouses line the waterfront.

An island with a colorful past, impressive mansions built by wealthy sea captains more than a century ago, a sheltered harbor for yachts and fishermen, an international colony of writers and artists, quaint inhabitants and good food—Nantucket, in the cold, gray, fog-making Atlantic? No—Hydra, set in the aquamarine and purple Aegean.

Hydra—or Ydra, or Idhra—can be reached from Piraeus by steamer in 3 or 4 hours, but seasonally a hydrofoil express cuts the time to less than 2 hours. Hence the weekend crowds, who come to stare at painters, to eavesdrop on writers, filmmakers or cosmopolites; to swim from the rocks or from the beach a mile from the town; to ride a donkey up to the 2,000-foot top of the triple-peaked mountain that forms the 13-mile-long island, stopping at one of the convents to buy hand-loomed fine woolens; to watch fishermen drying their nets, or simply to sit at one of the many cafes and restaurants on the quay and watch life going on around them far into the night.

When stirrings toward liberation began in the early 19th century, Hydra and neighboring Spetsai were the first to organize a navy. The wealthy merchants of this one tiny island supplied not only ships and brilliant admirals but, finally, nearly one-fourth of the total cost of the War of Liberation (1821-27).

But the coming of steam spelled the end of prosperity—the harbor is too shallow for large modern vessels. The population fell from more than 20,000 to about 3,000. The sponge fleet still goes out, the maritime academy is still there (the oldest in Greece); but the real answer is being found—as in Nantucket—in tourism. And, like Nantucket, Hydra, in season or out, casts its own very special spell of dignity and tranquillity.

A now decorative cannon, on an outlook facing the mainland, visible across the Aegean.

Things We Could Do Without

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things we could all do without:

The day between Sunday and Tuesday.

Self-help books written by guys who need help themselves.

Ball point pens that run dry while you're in the middle of writing a check.

Baseball pitchers who pose like statues in the park before every ball they throw.

Sitting next to a left-handed eater in the tourist section of a transcontinental plane.

Listening to a millionaire tell how he got wealthy by clean living, hard work keeping his eyes on the stars, his shoulder to the wheel, his nose to the grindstone, and both feet on the ground—while stealing a march on the other fellow.

Neckties wide as tablecloths.

Trying to keep up an intelligent conversation with an infant who can only say "goo" and "da da da da da."

The smug and knowing smile on the stars, his shoulder to the wheel, his nose to the grindstone, and both feet that is supposed to indicate that the human race, after all, is just a hit work.

Doctors who blow smoke in your face while telling you to give up cigarettes.

Having to visit and make sympathetic remarks to an office shirker who is in the hospital only because he is suffering from labor pangs.

Middle-aged ladies who, when they taste anything, close their eyes, pat their tummies and say, "Oh, yummy yummy!"

Gus who hoist a martini lunch and say, "Well, first one today."

Women who sprinkle their conversation at cocktail shindigs with four-letter words to show how sophisticated they are.

The husband's next door who does so many things so much better than you do—and is also far more considerate of his wife's feelings.

Price tags that go up, up—values that go down, down down.

Anybody who tries to sell you anything over the home telephone.

Having to miss half a day's work going to the funerals of friends over 40 who took up jogging in order to get in better shape.

The Pont de la Concorde, a bridge in Paris, is built of stones the revolutionary mob ripped from the Bastille. It connects the home of France's National Assembly with the huge square where King Louis XVI was guillotined.

REITHER on Beardstown

By Virgil Reither

BEARDSTOWN — Several families have moved out of their homes in the past two days due to the high stage of the Illinois river that has flooded the area.

The Richno, Moore Saylor and one of the Hager families are among those flooded out. They have moved to high ground and transferred their stock to farms not yet hit by the high water.

Several thousand acres of farm land, most of it lying in the section adjacent the Illinois and Sangamon, between Beardstown and Chandlerville, are flooded.

The highways are clearly visible to motorists traveling the Beardstown-Chandlerville road.

At Beardstown Wednesday the river hit 23.3 feet, and observer Tom Phelps announced a new prediction that the river will crest at 24 feet by May 23.

This 24 foot stage would be the highest since 1944.

The river was near a 27 foot stage in that year. A record of 29.78 was reached May 26, 1943.

At that time, which is referred to as the "dry flood" period, Beardstown's women and children were evacuated, and the national guard and a detachment of regular soldiers were there to guard homes and assist in the successful fight to keep students and the kindergarten at the St. John's Lutheran day school is set for May 26 at 7:30 p.m.

Speaker at the exercises will be the Rev. Paul Droege-mueller pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church at Arenzville.

The annual Vacation Bible School for all children, 8th grade through pre-kindergarten will be held June 1 through 12 at St. John's Lutheran church.

The classes will meet from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Many teachers and helpers will be needed and volunteers are urged to contact Norman Venz who will be in charge of the Bible School, or Harry Buck Bible School representative on the Board of Christian Education.

A training session for the school teachers and helpers is planned for Wednesday May 27 at 7:30 p.m.

School children kindergarten through the 5th grade will hold their annual picnic May 27, and on that day the children of the 6th, 7th and 8th grades will tour St. Louis with Mr. and Mrs. Don Ahlman.

The Married People's club will hold a picnic June 14 at 5 p.m. at Swimming Pool park.

The Aid and Mission Society will hold their annual joint picnic with the Concordia Guild June 18 at 5 p.m. at the Swimming Pool park.

All ladies of the church are invited to attend.

Lagnappe: — Mrs. Joyce Dotzert, wife of SP-4 Michael Dotzert, left May 12 on a TWA flight from St. Louis to New York then transferred to United Air Lines for the flight to Germany where she joined her husband, now stationed near Frankfurt. Dotzert is a teletype radio operator and has another year to serve in Germany.

Mrs. Dotzert, a registered nurse, worked at Schmitt Memorial here and expects to continue her nursing career in Germany. She was accompanied to St. Louis by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sieving of Meredosia and her husband's parents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dotzert and son Doug, R. R. 1, Beardstown.

Mrs. A. D. Anderson, rural route 1, Atwater, Ill. 62511 is asking for information on a story she read in the Journal about a "woman saving Betty Crocker coupons to obtain an artificial kidney machine."

"The women of our church would like to help with this project" she writes, "but we need information about the address of the person needing the assistance."

OK readers, get busy and write Mrs. Anderson!

Y To Offer College Prep Course In June

According to Fortune magazine, approximately 50 percent of all college freshmen will drop out of school. But your college bound youngster will get a chance to learn how to survive. A nationally recognized course "How to Study in College" will be offered at the Sherwood Eddy Memorial YMCA June 22-26.

The YMCA announced that the program, a one week, five evening series of lectures developed by two Purdue University professors, which will be held at the YMCA, is presented as a service to recent high school graduates going to college this fall.

Not a remedial course, the college survival program is aimed at a college entrance problem: the transition from high school to college.

The course was developed at Purdue University, and has been offered at all five campuses of Purdue University in Indiana and at YMCA's across the nation. In 1969, it was offered at YMCA's to more than 5,000 students in over 70 cities.

Topics covered in the five lectures include: how people learn, why we forget, the art of listening, how to take college lecture notes, motivation for maximum college performance, how to plan your year, a basic study formula, techniques of review, themes and reports, preparing for and taking tests and examinations, the vocabulary of college, what you need to know about each course and professor, when and how to obtain academic assistance, understanding college libraries and how they differ, personal problems in adjustment to college living.

"We are happy that the authors of the course have arranged to have the course presented here," said Jerry Clardy YMCA Youth Director.

"It is another means whereby the YMCA can offer a real public service in the community. In this case, we are combining our resources with those of recognized college educators in an attack on a very real, but often overlooked, problem in education—the college freshman dropout."

Enrollment details are available from the YMCA by calling 245-2141. Fee for the course is $20. The program is open only to high school graduates.

Unknown Driver Causes Wreck Near Blackhawk

Two persons were injured Thursday when the car in which they were riding was struck by a semi truck which swerved to avoid colliding with a car leaving the Blackhawk restaurant parking lot on U.S. 365.

Ida B. Schussler, 74, and Doris M. Fischer, 48, both of Springfield, were treated at Passavant hospital's outpatient facilities and released.

The injured women were riding in a car driven by Robert De Wan, 48, of Springfield. Investigating state troopers said that the De Wan car was traveling beside a semi truck driven by Roger O'Keefe, 19, of Glenarm at the time of the mishap.

Officers were told that a car left the Blackhawk and drove into the path of the truck. O'Keefe then pulled his truck to the north side of the highway, striking De Wan's auto. The unidentified car sped from the scene without stopping.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $110; damage to the De Wan auto was estimated at $450.

New Inquiry Board To Discipline Judges Supported By Fay

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Constitutional Convention poised itself Thursday for a decision on two rival plans for judicial discipline.

Chairman William Fay of the Judiciary Committee estimated a close vote Friday, with a possible Chicago-downstate cleavage.

The majority of the committee recommended a two-tiered plan that would add a judicial inquiry board, including laymen, to the existing courts commission composed entirely of judges.

The committee minority recommended only the courts commission as the disciplinary agent.

Fay, a Jacksonville delegate, was influenced by eight members. Only two of them are from Chicago.

Harold M. Nudelman, committee vice-chairman, and the other two minority members are Chicagoans who are expected to draw votes from the large Chicago delegation.

Harold M. Nudelman, committee vice-chairman, and the other two minority members are Chicagoans who are expected to draw votes from the large Chicago delegation.

Lewis had charged delegates were influenced to switch votes under pressure of large Chicago banks he said favored allowing the Legislature to decide whether there be branch banking without a referendum.

"I have no evidence of any payoffs or promises of payoffs and I am confident that none have been suggested," Lewis said in a statement Thursday.
